

Italy

Italy is situated in Europe and it is wetted by the Mediterranean sea. Norhwards is bordered with Switzerland and Austria, westwards with France and in the east with Slovenia. It has got two indepented cities. San Marino and Vatikan city. Its two bigger islands are Sikelia and Sardinia. Italy is also neighbouring with Greece, Spain and Tunisia. Italy's capital city is Rome which used to be the capital of the Roman empire

Italy has a wide variety of delicious food. Now let's take a look of the most famous Italian dishes that can be enjoyed in Italy. The first one is pizza. Italian pizza is fantastic! Crispy crust, fresh tomatoes, virgin olive oil, basil leaves and mozzarella. Second is the tortellini. Another divine classic Italian "invention"! Handmade pasta in the shape of a small "collar" stuffed with pork, ham, mortadella, salami, parmesan and eggs cooked in a thick rooster broth. The last one is lasagne. Lasagne is a very old Roman recipe. Handmade lasagne with layers of ragu, bechamel and parmesan on the top is heaven.

Colosseum is one of the most famous attractions in Italy. Its construction started in 72a.d and finished in 80a.d. Its first name was "The Amphitheater of Flamion", the cross section of emperors who built it. It could fit 65.000 audience. Its height reached 48 meter and had 4 floors. The last floor was for women and for people lower class and the first for special people. There were happening duels, naval battles and animal fights.
