Training Initiative for Youngsters in Refugee-like Situations

Registration form

*Minor's registration must be supported by a responsible adult
Self-registration for 18+ youth*

The REFUGIN project will guide youngsters through the course with someone similar to them – Oksana – who leads the narrative talking about challenges faced in the displacement journey and providing tips and suggestions to better manage them

This training offers a planned learning process in which the youngster can identify and name the competencies they are developing through several modules, which consider their expectations, questions, and interests:

Modules

- 01  Communicating with others
How to learn a new language
- 02  Cultural adaptation
How to get used to a new country
- 03  Get to know the local culture
- 04  Culture and My Identity

During the course, learning will take place on 3 levels:

The methods are based on: Kolb's Learning Cycle, experience, active participation, dialogue with the mentor, and an invitation to interact with the local community

 A supportive and adapted learning experience is expected: The course's implementation is advised to be supported by an adult/mentor, fostering comfort and security, while inviting the youngsters to take initiative and responsibility for their learning process!
